The 26th Symposium on the history of pharmacy

which will take place on the occasion of the 70th anniversary of the founding of Pharmaceutical Faculty in Bratislava and the 230th anniversary of the death of Ján Juraj Hoffinger on September 21, 2022 in the Knights' Hall of the Old Castle in Banská Štiavnica

Annotation

The aim of the symposium is to build on previous years of work and friendliness meetings, gain valuable scientific material and to broaden horizons. Pharmacy is a social and historical phenomenon that essentially affects everyone's life individually. A detailed knowledge of events and contexts in the past helps to better understanding and also helps prepare for a possible future. At the same time every single contribution evaluates the overall historical knowledge of our country as well as the wider geopolitical area. Maintaining this knowledge is important not only for us, but especially for future generations.

The organizational team believes, that as in previous years, the 26th symposium on the history of pharmacy manages to obtain valuable material, that will be reprocessed into a form of printed proceedings. In this way, the participants' work will be preserved and accessible for further scientific research. This year's symposium will take place in the Knights' Hall of the Old Castle in Banská Štiavnica. The symposium is dedicated to the 70th anniversary of the founding of the Faculty of Pharmacy in Bratislava, which was founded in 1952 as the sixth independent faculty of Comenius University.

The symposium is also dedicated to the physician Ján Juraj Hoffinger (1756 – 1792). Since 1783 he worked as a mining doctor in Banská Štiavnica. He did not only treat miners here, but he tried to give them complete care. He built in Banská Štiavnica a mining poorhouse, but wanted to set up a modern large-capacity mining hospital, which should be focused on the health problems of miners and to serve the entire wide region of Central Slovakia. He also tried to establish a branch of the pharmacy in Vindšacht (today Štiavnické Bane), where the highest concentration of mining workers was.

Basic instructions

Each lecturer will have approximately 15 minutes to speak using a data projector and a projection screen. Contributions will be divided into blocks (if their character allows) and each block will be followed by a discussion. The registered participant also submits the processed topic in electronic form according to the instructions for the authors. The written form of the paper may exceed form presented. Caution! The author has to submit his contribution in writing with annotation, keywords, with pictures separately and cited literature according to instructions to:

sencek.richard@muzeumbs.sk

no later than June 30, 2022!

We ask all contributors to follow the guidelines very carefully. Failure to do so may result in the rejection of the presentation or publication contribution. The contributions will be published only from those authors, who actively participate the symposium.

Please, send binding applications with a brief annotation by e-mail listed addresses. You can also contact us in any other technical requirements in the e - mails, or in case of any symposium questions.
