

JUNE 26 - 27TH, 2024
BANSKÁ ŠTIAVNICA, SLOVAKIA

MUSEUMS AND GALLERIES OF THE 21ST CENTURY TOGETHER AGAINST THE THREATS OF CLIMATE CRISIS

INTERNATIONAL KOLLOQUIUM

The Slovak Mining Museum in Banská Štiavnica intends to bring together museums and galleries of Central and Eastern Europe to discuss the issues of climate crisis and mitigation of its effects, as well as what course of actions our institutions should take. We wish to share our experiences with implementing ecologically sustainable measures in our institutions, present on (un)successful stories, exchange experiences in exhibiting on climate crisis, and discuss our roles as educators within this niche.

MAIN AREAS OF INTEREST

Applying environmentally sustainable measures in the operation of museums and galleries.

Exhibitions and projects of museums and galleries drawing attention to the impacts of the climate crisis.

Environmental education in museums and galleries, public education about the climate change issues.

The role of museums and galleries in community building and climate activism.

Open-air museums. The transformation of industrial objects with negative impact on the environment into touristic, educational or museum objects and institutions.
