

Slovak Mining Museum, Banská Štiavnica
Faculty of Pharmacy, Comenius University in Bratislava
OZ Diversitas Culturae, Banská Bystrica
East Slovak Museum in Košice
Pharmacy History Club

invite you to:

26th Symposium on the history of pharmacy, which will take place on the occasion 70th anniversary of the founding of the Faculty of Pharmacy, Charles University in Bratislava and 230th anniversary of the death of Ján Juraj Hoffinger under the auspices of the Dean of FaF UK prof. PharmDr. Ján Klimas, PhD., MPH on September 21, 2022 in the premises Knight's Hall of the Old Castle in Banská Štiavnica.

Applications for active and passive participation should be sent no later than April 29, 2022 by e-mail to the address: sencek.richard@muzeu-mbs.sk. About detailed request a circular and conditions of participation electronically at: sencek.richard@muzeumbs.sk.

Banská Štiavnica is a historic town in central Slovakia, which is known for the mining of metals, especially silver. In the past, it belonged to the free royal cities and today is proud of being inscribed on the World Cultural and Natural List UNESCO heritage. An integral part of the city is Slovak mining museum, which manages several rare historical monuments, concentrates and preserves collections, especially from the past of mining activities, as well as the Old castle. Right into this historic premises we invite you.